

What do Kino students do after Kino?

Kino students are caring, capable, creative, hardworking, and thoughtful adults.

They become teachers, doctors, social workers, chefs, soldiers, artists, entrepreneurs, journalists, emergency medical techs, musicians, lawyers, professors, and construction workers. Some of our students eventually return to Kino as parents, teachers, board members, and volunteers.

Kino students follow their dreams! You can find a Kino graduate:

- helping set up a community arts collective in Ecuador*
- dancing in the corps de ballet of the New York City Ballet*
- researching early Soviet art in Moscow as a Fulbright scholar*
- in Washington DC, working for the National Endowment for Democracy*
- teaching chemistry as a professor in New South Wales*
- helping refugees as a VISTA volunteer working with the International Rescue Committee*
- working as an industrial climber at Biosphere II*
- writing and drawing award winning graphic novels for children*
- keeping our school computers running and hosting our website as the owner of Mighty Mouse Computer Consulting*
- teaching English in Japan*
- motorcycling around the United States and creating public radio audio journals of his experiences*
- managing a US congressional election campaign*
- dancing with the Rockettes at Rockefeller Center*

We don't measure success solely by whether our graduates get into competitive colleges. However, Kino students have been accepted by some of the most demanding colleges in the country. Here is a list of schools where Kino graduates have been accepted. While they were in college, Kino students have studied in India, Russia, Japan, France, Mexico, Ecuador, Costa Rica, Spain, and England
